FROM THE EDITOR

Despite my harshest words, this bright red maple leaf would not get up off my lawn and go back on the tree. He will soon be followed by billions of his mates so I reckoned I'd better pour a large glass of Bordeaux and get cracking with this Newsletter before the deluge of winter preparation. I've been away for most of September so I am now on a timeline about the same as the fuse on an M67.

Next month is when our Nation lifts its consciousness from the day-to-day life and spends a bit more time thinking of our sailors, soldiers and air force personnel, both past and present. You have seen a perhaps not so subtle change in the format of the first two pages of recent issues which I hope expresses the fundamental purpose of the GCC. November will be the perfect time for each one of us get out and about, exercising that aim in all the ways we can. Please be sure to let me know any events you are aware of so I can put them in the November issue.

While on the West Coast last month, I was fortunate to spend a day at sea on HMCS Winnipeg, a Canadian Patrol Frigate. An added bonus is that I could then make a small contribution to the Navy part of our magazine.

From the President

In the September Newsletter it was announced that your Executive had reviewed organisational status of the GCC. The Executive had determined that our group has exposure to potential legal problems should any of our events result in injuries or liabilities. Consequently, the Executive is looking into the feasibility of establishing the GCC as a Not-for-Profit Corporation. The opportunity also would enable us to revise our organisational structure to reflect more current conditions. This effort continues. It is the Executive's intention to have a preliminary outline available to you by December with a draft proposal in January that would permit consideration for approval and subsequent adoption at the AGM in February. There will be more information in the November Newsletter.

September saw us host a member of the London Police Service. He spoke to us on the sad and vile circumstances of Human Trafficking. We are fortunate to have a Police Service that not only is trying to deal with the criminals involved but which also endeavours to help those who are victims of that awful trade. In October, we will be welcoming a representative of the Upper Thames River Conservation Authority (UTRCA).

Additionally, the GCC was able to participate in the 31 Canadian Brigade Group Open House and Job Fair on the last weekend of September. Many thanks to Randy Harden for taking the helm on this one. We were glad to be present with our Reserve soldiers and also to advertise our Mission of supporting the military of the London Region.

As a final but very special point, we would like to give you a 'heads up' to the possibility of a visit by LGen Christopher Coates, the RCAF Officer who is the Deputy Commander North American Aerospace Defense Command (NORAD). NORAD is the joint US-Canada organisation responsible for the aerospace defence of the two countries. Barring unforeseen events, he will be with us mid-day Monday, 4 November. Please mark your calendars. The details for this event (venue, precise timings, etc) will be provided once they are confirmed. Note that the regular November Business Meeting will still happen on Wednesday 13 November at the Officers'/Warrant Officers' and Sergeants' Mess in Wolseley Barracks.

All the best,
Geoff

The GCC Executive

President: Geoff Hutton

1st Vice President: Tom Dean

3rd Vice President: Randy Harden

Secretary: Beth Sayler

Treasurer: Barry Graham

Past President: Doug McAndless

GCC Notes

On 28 September, the GCC participated in 31 CBG's Open Day and Job Fair. Randy Harden managed this one for us. He reports that he got along famously with the Brigade mascot, Juno. More Photos on Page 11.

Your mission, should you choose to accept, is to out grin the bear.

A GCC Special Event - Monday 4 November

Lieutenant-General Christopher Coates

Deputy Commander, North American Aerospace Defense Command

There is a fair possibility that LGEN Coates, RCAF, will be in London on 4 November and he has offered to speak to the GCC and invited guests. Your executive is working through the visit planning and will let you know the detail in the second half of this month. Not often we get a three-star General on our patch! Early planning is to conduct a short, lunch hour visit to be held at 427 Wing's venue.

LCdr Jeremy Breese with Regional Capt(N) Tim O'Leary and incoming Commanding Officer LCdr Derek Niles signing the Change of Command certificates on Sept 28, 2019 at HMCS Prevest, in London, Ontario.

HMCS Prevest held an outstanding Change of Command Parade. The large number of guests and attendees clearly showed the importance of the Royal Canadian Navy in our London community. Bravo Zulu all around.

A Day at Sea with the RCN

By Dave Barton

My first two years in the Army (1967-69) were at Royal Roads Military College in Victoria, BC. Formerly the RCN officer training school, it made me feel like I was in the Navy. I lived in a cabin, walked on decks and listened to many pipes. 50 years later I was back there for a class reunion. Part of the programme was a day sail on HMCS Winnipeg. The crew enthusiastically showed us around the ship, demonstrated some high speed manoeuvres and treated us to outstanding tucker on the helicopter deck. My Armoured Corps classmate and I stood in the Ops Centre and mused how different the modern Navy world was from what he and I did back-in-the-day.

An aside - LCdr Jeremy Breese had two tours on HMCS Winnipeg.

31 Canadian Brigade Group

These articles, normally penned by members of the Brigade, offer a casual look at 31 Canadian Brigade Group. Written without heavy use of military lexicon, acronyms and abbreviations, they support information sharing to groups with diverse backgrounds and will, hopefully, offer a less formal view of the Brigade or examination of specific issues or events.

31 Service Battalion Delivers Warm Welcome for New 4th Division Commander

Story and Photos by: Corporal Sebastian Rovithis

On September 12th 2019 31 Service Battalion London Support Company (LSC) had the honour of showcasing a training night to Brigadier-General (BGen) Conrad Mialkowski. This included a tour of the facilities hosted by Captain (Capt) Jessica Crawford, Officer Commanding LSC, and Warrant Officer (WO) Robert Bialkowski, Company Sergeant Major.

Throughout the tour BGen Mialkowski was introduced to various components that make up 31 Service Battalion. He was able to partake in the junior officers meeting, observe troops preparing for Individual Battle Training Standards (IBTS) training, and engage with members of Recruit Platoon receiving lessons on the military ranking structure.

During the observations, BGen Mialkowski presented the opportunity for troops to ask any questions. Troops took this to their advantage asking: "When will the new MultiCam uniforms become available to the reserves". BGen Mialkowski explained "The new uniform is being tested for its operational effectiveness ... ideally, in the coming years, however, things can come up which may alter that timeline". Mialkowski took the time to answer further questions throughout the tour.

While observing the members and leadership, the tour covered the training areas that 31 Service

Battalion is fortunate to have. BGen Mialkowski was shown the Headquarters of 31 Service Battalion, the maintenance bay, clothing stores, transport, supply, and the Technical Services building. During this time Lieutenant-Colonel (LCol) Brian Medd, Commanding Officer of 31 Service Battalion, took the time to speak with BGen Mialkowski with regards to 31 Service Battalion overall, and the support that Technical Services provides to 31 Canadian Brigade Group.

During the tour, BGen Mialkowski had several questions for Capt Crawford regarding the various aspects of 31 Service Battalion. Capt Crawford provided an exem-

The CADETS

Back to School means Back to Training for Cadets!

By Lt(N) Terri-Leigh Saunders, RCSU(C) Unit PAO

September often brings with it groans from teenagers everywhere as they head back to school. However, for thousands of Royal Canadian Sea, Air and Army Cadets across the South-Western Ontario area (SWOA) it also brings with it the excitement of starting a new training year with their respective units.

Each of the three elements have also had a busy September with Sea Cadets sailing, Air Cadets gliding and Army Cadets hiking, biking and canoeing their way through some of Ontario's greatest landscapes. For many Cadets, this training continues through the month of October to get in as much outdoor time as possible before the snow flies.

Cadets have also been out and about in their communities tagging to raise funds to support upcoming activities and several units have also held Change of Command parades.

On September 28th, Cadets came together for a tri-service orienteering competition held at Shades Mills Conservation Area in Cambridge. Top finishers will represent SWOA at the Regional competition being held in Ottawa later this fall.

Coming up in October, many units will be teaching Cadets valuable skills as they participate in field training exercises. We will also begin supporting our Veterans by assisting with the annual Royal Canadian Legion Poppy Campaign which will kick off in communities across Canada on Friday October 25th.

Typically coinciding with the first week of school, Cadet units began their training year with full force, right out of the starting gate. In this case, Sunday September 15th saw many Air Cadet Squadrons participating in Battle of Britain commemorative parades in support of their local Legions and Air Force Associations.

We've got a busy fall ahead of us and we'll have lots more to share with you next time as our training gets into full swing!

Field Marshall Helmuth von Moltke, Chief of Staff Prussian Army, 1857-1877

"I divide my officers into four classes as follows: The clever, the industrious, the lazy, and the stupid. Each officer always possesses two of these qualities. Those who are clever and industrious I appoint to the General Staff. Use can under certain circumstances be made of those who are stupid and lazy. The man who is clever and lazy qualifies for the highest leadership posts. He has the requisite nerves and the mental clarity for difficult decisions. But whoever is stupid and industrious must be got rid of, for he is too dangerous."
